

Miles Don't Matter

Ward Thomas

Hey friend, it's been like a hundred years
Since we saw each other last
Remember when we parked your car in the lake?
Yeah, it still makes me laugh
I'm engaged, you had a baby
Hey, how's your sister? Is she still a little crazy?
We joke, we cry, we jump back in

And it slows down, oceans move
Just for a moment, it's me and you
Dreaming like we used to do
On one of our endless drives
And it rewinds, all is right
Sixteen again, at the all night diner
Swearing we'll be friends for life
I love that for you and I
As days fly fast and lives get scattered
Time don't pass and miles don't matter

You know they sold the open field
Right behind my parents house?
They're breaking ground to build a whole neighbourhood
Yeah, it's changing that small town
So it goes, world moves on
These days, forever doesn't last as long
We do, we have and always will

And it slows down, oceans move
Just for a moment, it's me and you
Dreaming like we used to do
On one of our endless drives
And it rewinds, all is right
Sixteen again, at the all night diner
Swearing we'll be friends for life
I love that for you and I
As days fly fast and lives get scattered
Time don't pass and miles don't matter

Yeah, we slow down, oceans move
You're here for me, and I'm there for you

And it slows down, oceans move
Just for a moment, it's me and you
Dreaming like we used to do
On one of our endless drives
And it rewinds, all is right
Sixteen again, at the all night diner
Swearing we'll be friends for life
I love that for you and I
As days fly fast and lives get scattered
Time don't pass and miles don't matter
