

Phoenix

Wardrum

We rise and then we must fall
There are so many things
In this life we can't control
But when the lights fade away
There are parts in this world
Where the night turns to day

The times we fall will let us know
That the phoenix must burn to emerge

Every new day is a great chance given
To stand out, grow strong and rise above all
Cause every end, is a new beginning
For winning, for reaching all we ever dreamt

It's heaven and then it's hell
There are so many feelings
That words cannot tell
It's not what route you must take
It's the certainty that you
Can't live with no mistakes

The times we fall will let us know
That the phoenix must burn to emerge

Every new day is a great chance given
To stand out, grow strong and rise above all
Cause every end, is a new beginning
For winning, for reaching all we ever dreamt

Don't sell out your dreams
Never let your focus shift
And draw your action plan
The phoenix must burn
To emerge again
