Warfare

As her mascara melts away
She's past living for today
And he works like a robot toy
So then stabs you and he tries to destroy
But the task is a lust for hate
Attacking the ones who can really relate,
Pumping in energy and making a stand,
But you're dead to the public's demand
Can you turn around
And say that you understand
Say that you
Can understand
Well can you ?
We're dancing together
In the flames of insanity

Let's burn.
