

Rage All Over

WARGASM

(It started with a smile, it started with a smile)
(It started with a smile, it started with a smile)
(It started with a smile, it started with a smile)
It started with a smile, that damn smile
It's so sick, come on motherfuckers

Sit down punk, I'll tell you how this is gonna go
I'll show you something that you didn't know you need to know
Nobody's bulletproof with the right ammo
We all buckle under pressure and nothing lasts forever
Kill me, maim me, love, berate me
There's Donners in my arteries, and Dahmers in my sweetest dreams
Cut out my eyes so I can't see them, televise our demise
It's rage all over

Oh, oh, we've got the energy
So shut your mouth and save it for the enemy
Oh, oh, we're being wasted
Tear down what they sold as sacred
We're rage all over
This is the line in the sand
The young and the damned

Yeah here we go for the hundredth time
This isn't living, it's surviving by design
We're generation misinformation
Destined to fail from the moment of creation
You've got them all on the phone but you still feel alone
Enough to keep warm but you still feel the cold
How are we meant to stand with this weight on our shoulders?
We're not pissed off
We're rage all over

Oh, oh, we've got the energy
So shut your mouth and save it for the enemy
Oh, oh, we're being wasted
Tear down what they sold as sacred
We're rage all over
This is the line in the sand
The young and the damned

We're done, done
We're understated and overrun
We're done, done
We're in a battle with the past we can't outgun
We're dead, dead
Unless we feast on the overfed
We're fucked, fucked
Enough is enough

Throw your friends on the fire just to keep warm
Oh, we're much better off cold

This is the last time, flash, bang and action
You lit the fuse and we're the reaction
Hands dipped white in acetone peroxide
It's time to be something we were taught to despise

Violence is optional, outrage is king
In this manmade reckoning the silence is deafening
You thought we were the joke, now here's the closer
There's no punchline
We're rage all over

Oh, oh, we've got the energy
So shut your mouth and save it for the enemy
Oh, oh, we're being wasted
Tear down what they sold as sacred
We're rage all over
This is the line in the sand
The young and the damned
