

Hangman's Night

Warkings

Deep in the sacred halls, as a red moon rises high
We wait for the night to fall, knowing it will be our grave

All has been said
All has been done
Facing the fact that we're dead and forlorn
Dead and forlorn

Kings will rise and kings will fall
Glory will be ours in the final call
All for one and together we will fight
We are awaiting the hangman's night
We are awaiting the hangman's night

Born on the battlefield sinners and saints for life
We are the Templar knights betrayed by a king and now we will die

All has been said
All has been done
Facing the fact that we're dead and forlorn
Dead and forlorn

Kings will rise and kings will fall
Glory will be ours in the final call
All for one and together we will fight
We are awaiting the hangman's night

Kings will rise and kings will fall
Glory will be ours in the final call
All for one and together we will fight
We are awaiting the hangman's night

Come with me, hear the hangman come
Cause the morning has arrived
Come with me, hear the hangman come
Cause the morning shows his light

Kings will rise and kings will fall
Glory will be ours in the final call
All for one and together we will fight
We are awaiting the hangman's night

Kings will rise and kings will fall
Glory will be ours in the final call
All for one and together we will fight
We are awaiting the hangman's night

We are awaiting the hangman's night
