

Twin

Warlord

Hear the screams of pain
From the stone cold floor
And hear the cries
That are met with silence from our overlords
I see the dividing line of those
Who lived and died by the word of G_d,
And yet are still denied

Forgive us our sins now,
For we know not what we do
We're seeking the answers,
But hiding from the truth
Bearing false witness,
And praising false names
Yet demanding you show yourself
And lift our veil of pain

Reveal your face to us,
As we shout your name
Come to rescue us
From our self inflicted shame
A vision on a skyline,
Where Heaven touches the Earth
An eruption of hellfire, our eternal curse

Forgive us our sins now,
For we know not what we do
We're seeking the answers, but hiding from the truth
Bearing false witness,
While praising false names
Yet demanding you show yourself
And lift our veil of pain
