

Crying Whiskey

Warren Zeiders

Said your goodbyes, felt like I'd die, thought you'd be better off
No me and you, said we were through, called our forever off
But I know when you've been drinkin', and the loneliness kicks in Your vision's blurry, your words are slurrin', that's when you wanna talk

Now your makeup's runnin', and they start comin' down

You're just cryin' whiskey, I can tell them ain't real tears
Once the bottle's empty, you ain't ever thinkin' clear
When you get too drunk, that's when you hit me up
And you're just tryin' to get some love
You don't really miss me, you're just cryin' whiskey

Cryin' whiskey

You was alright, dancin' all night, kissin' on somebody else
I think it's funny he spent his money buyin' you that top-shelf
When the drinks hit your system, baby, and it's me that you're missin', baby
You don't really want me, but you want me right now

You're just cryin' whiskey, I can tell them ain't real tears
Once the bottle's empty, you ain't ever thinkin' clear
When you get too drunk, that's when you hit me up
And you're just tryin' to get some love
You don't really miss me, you're just cryin' whiskey

You're just cryin' whiskey, I can tell them ain't real tears
Once the bottle's empty, you ain't ever thinkin' clear
When you get too drunk, that's when you hit me up
And you're just tryin' to get some love
You don't really miss me, nah, you're just cryin'
You're just cryin', you're just cryin' whiskey

You're just cryin' whiskey
