

Sometimes it feels like I have reached my mental breaking point
I'm on the verge of crying how am I supposed to cope
I'm still searching for that missing part to fill the void
But I don't know if that is even within my control

People keep telling me how proud they are of my success
While I'm just standing there sure it's cool I'm still depressed
I just feel pain, going insane feels like I'm barely here
Want to go back and find myself to feel alive again

I don't sleep anymore, don't even eat anymore
Don't wanna breathe anymore
Laying awake, another sleepless night
My mind is racing won't shut up, just saying fuck my life

Dreaming in a world that I can't see, maybe in another life
I will find an inner peace a place where I am free
I wanna scream out loud nothing's what it used to be
There's a war inside my mind but I'm not the enemy

My mind is racing won't shut up, just saying fuck my life

Sometimes it feels like I have reached my mental breaking point

I'm on the verge of crying how am I supposed to cope

I'm still searching for that missing part to fill the void

But I don't know if that is even within my control

People keep telling me how proud they are of my success
While I'm just standing there sure it's cool I'm still depressed
I just feel pain, going insane feels like I'm barely here
