

When Heavens End

Watain

Glance so far up in the pyre as flames hunts heaven high it's brought forth, a long awaited illusion of burning merciless hate.

And time shreds in pain and hear a drop of golden hymns to those heroes who grought glory and hope to all those rasesof men a longing... for bright, forever

...feed with Gods love

So, they see this revelation so dearly they trusted thier king as they thought they where engraved in his courage A weak, pityful army...
...against the horned lord

Slaved are they beneath the spear which reigns of diabolical power

Heavens dwan they faced

A shattered dream in viced pupose for those of heaven light a black cut on every limb a hunting dusk on every mind

God is dethroned and all his children dressed in white will lick the cosmic night sky dripping of heavens blood

The fury is ours, all might and glory united with him eternally Hail, Hail my majesty
Hail Satan, my honour is for you
