Technology in Action

T, T, T, T, Technology inaction

Technology ascends fast-paced; it's inspirational
Don't get too inspired cause it's devastational
Can't keep up with the latest gen, it's operational
Both lines of offset growth are relational

Confused and incomplete we struggle to keep pace
Lost in our device - lost and bound for dark fates
Scientists who cut the edge they fall short as well
Morality; sluggish at best, a sad tale to tell

The most advanced machines are born from creative minds
But the thoughts of the end user, always lag behind
Like the dawn of the Internet saw transformation
Info superhighway to e-commerce solution

Just cause we have power or technical prowess
Doesn't make us ready to own such progress
To be responsible takes a quantum leap
Into the unknown - for most, a dive too deep

A modified environment is the path we've all been on
Since proto-humans sharpened their first stones
With goals meant for good, a subjective idea
But the best intentions still lead us to fear

For millennia we have had the tools
To bring about our demise - spears in hands of fools
People will do good or evil regardless
Of what technology helps them do it best
