

Something You Ain't Ever Had

Waterloo Revival

Whatever you're wanting, you got it
I'm at your command
Whatever you're feeling, I could heal it
If ya let me be your man

Cuz you've got the looks and you've got the smile
You've got the moves that drive a man wild
You've got me hooked but you're already taken
And its got me thinking

What you need is a brand new feeling
What you need is a brand new man
What you need is probably something you ain't ever had

What you need is an all night loving
But this ain't no one night stand
What you need is probably something you ain't ever
No you ain't ever had

He's got you guarded, cold hearted
And you wanna break free
Get back to your roots and, let loose then
You'll finally be able to breath

But he's got the look and he's got the style
He's got the ride that's driving you wild
But you've got the heart that don't deserve breaking
And its got me thinking

What you need is a brand new feeling
What you need is a brand new man
What you need is probably something you ain't ever had

What you need is an all night loving
But this ain't no one night stand
What you need is probably something you ain't ever
No you ain't ever had

What you need is
What you need is

As solid as the ground you're walking on
I'll be the hand that's always hanging on
A love that's waiting for you while you're gone
Something you ain't ever
No you ain't ever had

What you need is a brand new feeling
What you need is a brand new man
What you need is probably something you ain't ever
No you ain't ever had

What you need is an all night loving
But this ain't no one night stand
What you need is probably something you ain't ever
No you ain't ever had

What you need is
What you need is

Whatever you're wanting, you got it
I'm at your command
Whatever you're feeling, I could heal it
If ya let me be your man
