

I Felt Younger When We Met

Waterparks

I said I love you to death
So I must be dead
It makes me sick you know my skin
My sins are all built in
You know, so I must be dead
It makes me sick, you know my skin
My freckles and my hands, you know

I've never seen a face with your type of shine
You moved in behind my eyes and built yourself a shrine
But then you ran away and you left the picture frames
Now I don't see my face the same

Do you see
You're the reason I can't sleep
Lose it where your head should be
In the dark between my sheets
Do you see
You're the reason I can't sleep
Lose it where your head should be
In the dark between my sheets

I said I love you to death
So I must be dead
It makes me sick you know my skin
My sins are all built in
You know, so I must be dead
It makes me sick, you know my skin
My freckles and my hands, you know

Sober makes the months go slower
(So I tried to get away)
I flew to California, I
(I chose the worst place)
It's where I flew to see you for the first time
I was broke but sold half of my records, gave the money to an airline 2015 was cold and I was see-through
Had to meet you
Now I'm watching past me in the rearview

Do you see
You're the reason I can't sleep?
Lose it where your head should be
In the dark between my sheets
Do you see
You're the reason I can't sleep?
Lose it where your head should be
In the dark between my sheets

I said I love you to death
So I must be dead
It makes me sick you know my skin
My sins are all built in
You know, so I must be dead
It makes me sick, you know my skin
My freckles and my hands, you know

Do you see?
You're the reason I can't sleep (Oh, oh)
Lose it where your head should be (Oh)
In the dark between my sheets, my sheets (Oh, oh)
Do you see?
You're the reason I can't sleep (Oh, oh)
Lose it where your head should be
In the dark between my sheets (Oh, Oh)
My sheets, my sheets, my-
