

Extra Time

Wax

Extra time
Give me just a little extra time
I ain't perfect but I'm trying
Be patient
Be kind, yeah
Extra time
Give me just a little extra time
I ain't perfect but I'm trying
Everything will be fine, yeah

I wear my feelings on my shirt sleeve
Show up to the party early
Hella anxious I need your chi
Selling dreams that's dirt cheap
Trying to turn me to a skeptic
What we had was so electric
Probably shouldn't have left quick
Always looking for the exit
I got habits that I should break
And risks that I should take
But life moves so fast sometimes wish it could wait
Making these excuses
Me lying is useless
If I didn't show up I'm just at home I'm not elusive
If I don't react when they get mad sometimes they lose it
Just to grip sometimes your grip you gotta loosen
Take a couple losses doesn't have to mean you're losing
I need new days
I need sun shining through my window on my toothpaste
I need hall passes from the too bads and too lates
I've been turning in my homework like it's due late
But that feels right on time
I just need a little

Extra time
Give me just a little extra time
I ain't perfect but I'm trying
Be patient
Be kind, yeah
Extra time
Give me just a little extra time
I ain't perfect but I'm trying
Everything will be fine, yeah

There's a few things you gotta give to me
Like patience, time and sympathy
I ain't gonna get it right like instantly
But with a little extra time I think you'll see
That there's room for improvement a lot of space
And my heart's always in the right place
Hold you down in any trouble that you might face
Even though if short term amnesia I got a slight case
Lost my wallet
Lost my phone
Lost my keys to get in my home
I lose everything
My mind included

It's floating in a cloud filled sky full of music
I am not well suited for the corporate grind
Distracted and disorganized
But I'm loyal, kind and pretty soon you'll see
I got tons of love to give you for free

Extra time
Give me just a little extra time
I ain't perfect but I'm trying
Be patient
Be kind, yeah
Extra time
Give me just a little extra time
I ain't perfect but I'm trying
Everything will be fine, yeah
