

Lucy, my baby, the time has come
For our hearts to break both at once
We got two separate dreams
And so it seems
A fork in this road has come

I've been stalling trying to figure out something
A way to satisfy us both
Cuz then we could just keep right on loving
And you'd still be with me
Smiling happily
Yeah

But Lucy, your ultimatum was clear
It must be your way or your gone
I gave it a try
But I can't comply
So I guess I'll be moving on

I don't know if I can take all the suffering
I might just fall apart I don't know
Cuz usually, Lucy, when I am struggling
You're the one I call
To forget about it all
Yeah

But now I ain't got no one to call
And I'll just be alone with my thoughts
Somebody told me time, it heals all
So all I gotta do is be strong
Yeah

Lucy, my love, please reconsider
Cuz without your love I can't live
But this dream of mine
Is gonna take a little bit more time
She said, I ain't got no more time to give

I guess I'll unfollow you and delete your number
And then I'm headed for the coast
But I bet you Lucy you'll always wonder
What we could've been
I'm so heartbroken
Hopefully one day
This feeling goes away
