Just sent out the mass email about the mass suicide
With a download code that gets you half off from Amazon on the cyanide
Are you a ride or die?
Well, in this case you'll ride and die
Are you sick and tired of the lies that the other side justifies, hits and [

Look in the mirror, adjust my tie
I wouldn't even notice if you up and died
Wouldn't notice if from this email list you unsubscribed

Ooh, it don't matter who you pray to
Ain't nobody gonna rescue you
Oh, no-oh-oh
Save yourself

Wired to be obedient, hired
By the greedy for tireless and expedient firing squads
Guns blazing through your corridor, hired for jobs
Fundraising, going door to door
It'd be a fallacy to say we're all lost
Worker ants work for zero cost for the boss
L. Ron Hubbard's boat crew coulda told you that You flip that switch, it's very hard to flip it back but, baby

Ooh, it don't matter who you pray to though
Ain't nobody gonna rescue you
Oh, no-oh-oh
Save yourself

You could be the richest man in the whole world, and Still look like Harvey Weinstein or Lou Pearlman
Fuck around and act like 'em too
Die inside a prison, neck wrapped in a noose
These worthless gems that we cherish like jewels
We worship them then we perish like fools, ayy
Blood suckers making parasite moves on the populace
Hypnotized by images of opulence

Ooh, it don't matter who you pray to
Ain't nobody gonna rescue you
Oh, no-oh-oh
Save yourself

Mythical Greeks, biblical freaks
Any time a person that's labeled as mystical speaks
We all wanna drink the Kool-Aid and touch the poisonous snakes
And label other voices as mistakes
A meaningless life, we don't wanna live it
But there ain't no deeper meaning than the meaning that you give it
And the human brain just like a computer mainframe
And a lot of us are being hacked
I'm just saying, baby

Ooh, it don't matter who you pray to
Ain't nobody gonna rescue you
Oh, no-oh-oh-oh-oh
Save yourself
