Casey's Last Ride

Waylon Jennings

Casey joins the hollow sound Of silent people walkin' down The stairway to the subway In the shadows down below.

Following their footsteps Through the neon darkened corridors Of silent desperation Never speaking to a soul.

The poison air he's breathing
Has the dirty smell of dyin'
'Cause it's never seen the sunshine
And it's never felt the rain.

Casey minds the arrows
And ignores the fatal echoes
Of the clicking of the turn stops
And the rattle of his chains.

Oh, she said, Casey it's been So long since I've seen you Here she said just a kiss To make a body smile.

See she said I've put on New stocking just to please you Lord, she said. Casey Can you only stay a while?

Casey leaves the underground And stops inside the Golden Crown For something wet To wipe away the chill that's in his bones.

Seeing his reflection
In the lives of all the lonely men
Who reach for anything they can
To keep from goin' home.

Standing in the corner Casey drinks his final bitter Never glancing in the mirror At the people passing by.

Then he stumbles as he's leavin' And he wonders if the reason Is the beer that's in his belly Or the tear that's in his eye.

Oh, she said, I suppose You seldom think about me Now she said, now That you've a family of your own.

Still she said it's
So blessed good to feel your body

Lord, she said, Casey
It's a shame to be alone. hmm...
