We Are Messengers

Everybody's getting older
I find it kinda hard to believe
Yeah I find it all a little frightening
But thank God you're getting older with me

The days are flashing by like lightning
Every time I close my eyes it's spring
Yeah I find it all a little scary
But thank God you're getting older with me

Yeah it's true that time waits for no man
And I know it can't wait on me
So we'll keep walking hand in hand
And darling that's alright with me

Everybody's getting older
I find it kinda hard to believe
But I don't really care about being young no more
Cause darling you're getting older with me

Yeah it's true that time waits for no man
And I know it can't wait on me
So we'll keep walking hand in hand
And darling that's alright with me

Yeah it's true that time waits for no man
And I know it can't wait on me
So we'll keep walking hand in hand
And darling that's alright with me
Darling that's alright
Darling that's alright with me
