

When Everything Is Done

We Are The Emergency

I'll meet you here, one more time
For a moment, did we lose our way?
Will you ask me if I miss this?
But somehow I know, I know

I'll bring down these four walls
I'll bring down these four walls

Another moment like a lifetime
You feel trepidation
When everything is done
Stealing stars out of the skies
Tracing constellations
When everything is done

You can't say I never tried
And all these things we took for granted
Show themselves and were greater than we knew
You can't say I never tried
You can't say I tried

I'll bring down these four walls
I'll bring down these four walls

Another moment like a lifetime
You feel trepidation
When everything is done
Stealing stars out of the skies
Tracing constellations
When everything is done