

Recklessness

We Came As Romans

Pull me up
Pull me out of this mess
I didn't mean the things I said
Take my word
Take my word and trust
I didn't mean the things I said

But once they moved past my lips, it was done
If only they will be forgotten
But once they moved past my lips, it was done
I never thought about what words were spoken

And now I've lost the trust I had in your eye
Because you let me in
And now I've lost the trust I had in your eye
I'm left here broken

I felt my heart drop
When you told me what I've done
Hearing it back from your side opened my eyes
But I have been so blind
Hold me tight to my side
Been so blind
Hold me tight to my side

My recklessness it pierced through us
I take the blame as we are crushed
If only words could fix things I've done
I'll be sure that it's you we'll heal

Take 'em out
Take 'em out of this mess
I never meant to put you in

Fix the cracks
Fix the cracks I made
My words have broken this

And now I've lost you again and your love
I have no place
And now I've lost you again
I didn't think about the words I said

I felt my heart drop
When you told me what I've done
Hearing it back from your side opened my eyes
But I have been so blind
Hold me tight to my side
Been so blind
Hold me tight to my side

(I didn't think about the words I said)

But once they moved past my lips, it was done
If only they will be forgotten
But once they moved past my lips, it was done
I never thought about what words were spoken

And now I've lost the trust I had in your eye
Because you let me in
And now I've lost the trust I had in your eye
