

Ally

We the Kings

When you cry, I cry with you
And when you hurt, I feel it too
And sometimes it feels like we're going nowhere fast
For every step forward take two steps right back
I hope that it helps to know I'll help however I can

'Cause I am an ally and I am a friend
And you have my heart and my voice and my hand
And even a warrior needs somewhere to rest
And I am an ally and I am a friend

So be bold, be brave, be strong
And show them that stone walls can fall
And sometimes it feels like we're going nowhere fast
For every step forward take two steps right back
I hope that it helps to know I'll help however I can

'Cause I am an ally and I am a friend
And you have my heart and my voice and my hand
And even a warrior needs somewhere to rest
And I am an ally and I am a friend

And sometimes it feels like we're going nowhere fast
For every step forward take two steps right back
I hope that it helps to know I'll help however I can

'Cause I am an ally and I am a friend
And you have my heart and my voice and my hand
And even a warrior needs somewhere to rest
And I am an ally and I am a friend
