Bad at Love

(I don't think that you should come over)
(No, I don't think that you should come over)

I should let you go, you're the best I'd ever get
And I don't, I don't wanna be who you regret
And it don't feel right being in love when I'm a mess
'Cause I'm scared that I'll just do it all again

You roll your eyes and say that I'm dramatic
'Cause every time I end up in a panic
But baby with you when I'm falling, I never wanna think of landing
So just listen baby
I don't think that you should come over, but could you come over?

So I'll forget all of the reasons, I'll forget all of the times
When I messed up all their feelings, then I went and messed up mine
And I know that love is not a game but I play it every time
So I don't think that you should come over, but could you come over?
And make me forget why I'm so bad at love

I don't think that you should come over
I don't think that you should come over
No, I don't think that you should come over
And make me forget why I'm so bad at love

I should just say no, but I'll end up saying yes
'Cause I know, I know I'm a little too obsessed
'Cause you just feel right and I'd hate to make you wrong
'Cause I know, I know that I'll do it all again

You roll your eyes and say that I'm dramatic
'Cause every time I end up in a panic
But baby with you when I'm falling, I never wanna think of landing
So just listen baby
I don't think that you should come over, but could you come over?

So I'll forget all of the reasons, I'll forget all of the times
When I messed up all their feelings, then I went and messed up mine
And I know that love is not a game but I play it every time
So I don't think that you should come over, but could you come over?
And make me forget why I'm so bad at love

I don't think that you should come over
I don't think that you should come over
No, I don't think that you should come over
And make me forget why I'm so bad at love

I don't think that you should come over
I don't think that you should come over
No, I don't think that you should come over
And make me forget why I'm so bad at love
