

In Therapy

We Three

Saw the 1975
They were great Matty sang alright
But I was scared that you'd like him more than me
It's pathetic and it's insecure
But I guess that's what I'm in therapy for
You say you love me, but I think you love him more
Cause I'm a jealous little piece of shit
And you're so perfect, but kind of a bitch
No wonder we've been struggling to get along
I get scared that you love me till I'm rich
You get scared that I'll leave you when I'm big
We both say we're right till we know we're wrong

That's why I'm in therapy
I think things that I shouldn't be
Like you love your ex more than you love me
But you're scared to be alone
That's why I say things I don't mean
And wish I knew less about your history
Cause somebody else touching your body
Is hard for me to ignore
Guess that's what I'm in therapy for

You look pretty when you're insecure
Seen once or twice, but I'd love to see it more
Your chest gets tight
But you never know what you should say
I look better when I'm signing on a stage
For two plus hours my brain just behaves
It thinks that I'm cool and all I ever break is a leg
It doesn't matter how I go about it
It doesn't matter how I looked or sounded
It doesn't matter what I said or what I wanted to
Cause I'm a jealous little piece of shit
And you're so perfect, but kind of a bitch
No wonder we've been struggling to get along

That's why I'm in therapy
I think things that I shouldn't be
Like you love your ex more than you love me
But you're scared to be alone
That's why I say things I don't mean
And wish I knew less about your history
Cause somebody else touching your body
Is hard for me to ignore
Guess that's what I'm in therapy for

That's why
That's why
That's, that's, that's why
That's why
That's why
That's, that's, that's why
That's why
That's why
That's, that's, that's why
That's why

That's why
That's, that's, that's why
