

Testify

We Three

Lying awake trying to contemplate your perception
I've made a mistake but this is a whole new kind of rejection
Come over here slowly, come get to know my body
Got me breaking a sweat cause this is a whole new kind of neglect

What happened to the days when you never told me lies
Now life's just one big maze, thank god I realized
Fine I'll brake it down, I'll say it you broke my heart

Life gets so black and white when I look in your eyes
Girl, you just simplify
You make wrong seem so right, turn the dark into light
You make me want to testify
You make me want to testify

I'm losing control now that the alcohol hits my blood flow
Didn't want to address but I really thought that you should know, know-know-know, know, babe
Come over here slowly, come get to know my body, yeah-yeah
Still lying awake trying contemplate your perception

What happened to the days when you never told me lies
Now life's just one big game, thank god I realized
Fine I'll brake it down, I'll say it you broke my heart

Life gets so black and white when I look in your eyes
Girl, you just simplify
You make wrong seem so right, turn the dark into light
You make me want to testify
You make me want to testify
You make me want to testify

I'm missing you, do you miss me too? I'm missing all your cues
Cause baby, it's hot in here and I'm filled with fear, cause I know you don't like to lose
I'm missing you, do you miss me too? I'm missing all your cues
Baby, it's hot in here and I'm filled with fear, cause I know you don't like to lose

Life gets so black and white when I look in your eyes
Girl, you just simplify
You make wrong seem so right, turn the dark into light
You make me want to testify
You make me want to testify
You make me want to testify
You make me want to testify
