I Wish You Well

We Were Promised Jetpacks

If all that we've said and done
Is somehow recorded
And it's played on loop

If all that we're trying to be
Is truly reflective
We should take a look

Deadlines coming up
Problems pile on top
The taps not for turning off
And there's no better time to talk

If all that we've said and done
Is somehow connected
We should join the dots

If all that I'm looking for
Is total forgiveness
Then what's your thoughts?

If you don't care
And I don't care,
Then what's the point of this questionnaire
I wish you well

Deadlines coming up
Problems pile on top
The taps not for turning off
There's no better time to talk

Deadlines coming up
Problems pile on top
The taps not for turning off
There's no better time to talk

If all that I've said and done
Is somehow connected
I should join the dots
