

Halfway to the Grave

Wednesday 13

Bad luck is the only luck I
Ever seem to find
And everywhere that I go
It finds me every time

And it's one wrong move
I always lose, why do I even try
Just open up the casket for me
I'll lay down and die

God knows I've seen better days
Don't let me die, die this way
I'm on my knees, I guess I'll pray
I'm just halfway to the grave

Black clouds they follow me
They're hanging over my head
Is this a curse or something worse
Just drive me away in the hearse

And it's one wrong move
I always lose, why do I even try
Just open up the casket for me
I'll lay down and die

God knows I've seen better days
Don't let me die, die this way
I'm on my knees, I guess I'll pray
I'm just halfway to the grave

Halfway to the grave
Halfway to the grave

God knows I've seen better days
Don't let me die, die this way
I'm on my knees, I guess I'll pray
I'm just halfway to the grave

God knows I've seen better days
Don't let me die, die this way
I'm on my knees, I guess I'll pray
I'm just halfway to the grave

Halfway to the grave
Halfway to the grave
