

Handsome Man

Wednesday

Whistlin' past a graveyard smash
With broken glass from a car crash
You're small and lookin' through stained glass
Pull over on the overpass

I'm all alone in a snow globe
Where do we go when the glow goes home?
I'm washing away all my love and want
A neighborhood kid with a fucked-up buzzcut

Holdin' a crossbow in a family photo
Sending the biggest smile from Tokyo
Where the wallpaper winces while you piss
And there's a place where the kids go to kiss

The only reason I'm coming home
Is for my secondhand handsome man