Baby, why don't you love me?
Kiss me while I'm sweet and 20
I have love I still have plenty
Found my honey searchin' Craigslist
Could I be your missed connection?
Did you see me on the street?
Did you think I was such a blessing?
Silent music of melting ice
Will you sing me Edelweiss?

Don't make a scene
At the airport when you leave
Get on the train darling
Do you remember hiding your house key?
Carve our initials into desks
Try our best to make a mess
Using sharp points of a compass
Hoping it doesn't make you love me less
Kissin' in the living room, oh

Dearest, won't you scratch my surface
Walk out of the room we're in love no longer
Our love was sensory, just tender over Tinder
Give me the architecture
Of how our love ought to work
Draw me on your floor plan
Construct me on your dirt
