On hot days like today
I remember you and how we left together
When I see how little energy I have
I remember you

You always got annoyed
Saying you like winter better than this hot summer
But because we could watch the rain fall together
It was alright for me

Just like how the summer night starts
When the sun sets
As much as we were together
Those times were so short

Even when I kept getting annoyed
You never let go of me even on those hot summer days
Even if we're in the rain, I can hold you
It was so nice back then

Just like how the summer night starts
When the sun sets
As much as we were together
Those times were so short

Just like how it's natural
That I'm alone this summer night now that the year passed
I'm facing this loneliness
And it's tiring me

Dragging my tired body outside tonight
Suddenly the air feels so cool
Woo woo
It feels strange
Letting you go during this season

Now that the year passed
I'm alone this summer night

All the times we spent together
Are passing by
