

You say you're doing fine, but that's a lie
I see it in your eyes, you look surprised
To see me at your door at four in the morning
Damn, it's pouring, won't you let me inside?
Let me inside

So I can let you break my heart
One more time, one more time, one more time
So I can let you break my heart
One more time, one more time, just one more time

Wish I could tell you that I'm sorry
Wish I could tell you that you're right
Wish I was sober when you called me
My demons had me on the line
(I wish that I could go back in time)
Now you got me blocked, baby, that's okay
You know I be tryna text you every day
Still got your pictures on my page
Even though I get sad when I see your face

I wish that I could go back in time
Deep conversations and all the late nights
I miss the feeling when you were mine

You say you're doing fine, but that's a lie
I see it in your eyes, you look surprised
To see me at your door at four in the morning
Damn, it's pouring, won't you let me inside?
Let me inside

So I can let you break my heart
One more time, one more time, one more time
So I can let you break my heart
One more time, one more time, just one more time

Won't you let me inside?
Let me inside
So I can let you break my heart
One more time
Won't you let me inside?
Just one more time
