

TEETH

WesGhost

Sun starts creeping through my window
Why am I so scared of you?
Hide with nightmares in the shadows
In the corner of your room
Said you wanna live forever
In the darkness, me and you
Sun starts creeping through my window
I'm just waiting for the moon

Blood red, I've been dead for a long time
Blood red, I've been dead for a long time
Blood red, I've been dead for a long time

I sink my teeth in you
I need a taste of you
I sink my teeth in you
I'll watch you turn into someone that I knew
I sink my teeth in you

Blood still dripping off my coffin
Why am I still wide awake?
I've been counting countless headstones
From the souls I couldn't tame
Been sinking my teeth down, the deeper they sink now
The more that I believe they're really falling in love
I won't let you bleed out
So please keep your screams down
'Cause baby, you're the one I wanna hide from the sun

Deep down
Deeper than I ever should've, but I want another taste of your life
See now
You're the reason I'm addicted to the taste, but afraid of the bite

Blood red, I've been dead for a long time
Bloodshed, now you're dead and you're all mine
'Cause the blood still drips from my pale lips
When I taste your soul

I sink my teeth in you
Come feed my appetite
I'll take a bite
I need a taste of you
I'll pull you off the vine
Drink you like wine
I sink my teeth in you
I'll watch you turn into someone that I knew
I sink my teeth in you

Blood red, I've been dead for a long time
Blood red, I've been dead for a long time
