

I urge you from this very moment right now to not be afraid
You are in a very special space and time
You have eyes, ears Sentient ability to witness historical narratives unfold before you Regarding great things that have yet to be truly defined And I think that greatness operates within that space where What is occurring is so great and magnanimous that it's hard to define it
So, I labor with this task
Not to be overtly ostentatious or express large abundance of so phistry
I will add my true sentiment regarding this sound
And I will express to you that this is, this is the enlightenme nt
This is an opportunity of a lifetime That you, I hope That we divorce ourselves from this concept That by being unique is anything But you trying to draw distinction from yourself from what is g reat
Sit with that for a second
You, the listener, with all due respect
Some of us are here for the art
Some of us are here to try to be far too discerning
When it comes to cultural iconography And narrative unfold-ment within historical alignment to greatness
So I say to you: I want you to exercise the task Of feeling enlightened and use what you perceive
And what you are discerning as a guide
For you to improve the quality of your life
You can use this sound as a guide to improve the quality of you r life
To take control of the circumstances surrounding your existence
If you but only knew how to place Where is the enlightenment in contra-distinction to the Renaissance
So I say to you this: Michelle is for the babies Griselda is for the children, FLYGOD is the shepherd Peace and love, I hope you enjoy
