Bound

Wet

Bound to you had me tied
Never even had to try
What's it like to never mind
And no one seemed to care

Close my eyes and hold on tight
Close my eyes while we take flight
Hardly even on my side
No one seems to care

And I'm screaming in the palm of my hand
Waiting for another chance to be bland
What seems worse?
Trying not to care

Bound to you, blood and time
Throw me out another line
What's it like on the inside
You never had to try

And I'm screaming in the palm of my hand
Waiting for another chance to be bland
What seems worse?
Trying not to care

And I'm screaming in the palm of my hands
Waiting for a love that never could land
What seems worse?
Trying not to care
