

There's a Reason

Wet

Through unrest and stillness
Wasn't I your witness
Now there's a difference
A distance between us

I call your name
But you can't hear me
Now something's changed
Your back is to me
Up against the wall
How did I fall so hard again

Like a wall falls in the night
Though the rhythm's just out of time
There's a reason you're by my side again

It's nobody's business
Who cares if anyone listens
Now there's a madness to this
And it's getting to us

I call your name
But you can't hear me
Now something's changed
Your back is to me
Up against the wall
How did I fall so hard again

And the wall falls in the night
Though the answer's just out of sight
There's a reason you're holding me tight again

And we'll wait for the rest of our lives
With the answer just out of sight
There's a reason you're by my side

Yeah, oh yeah

Like a wall falls falls in the night
Though the rhythm's just out of time
There's a reason you're by my side again

And the wall falls in the night
Though the answer's just out sight
There's a reason you're holding me tight again□
