

Hey, So Long (Ohio)

Wheat

Sat right close for a year and a half
You were getting pretty close to the people in the back
And I was there when your guard had dropped
I was too tired to bend too tired to stop
Could've ran when the lights went out
But I was working real hard at working things out
Plus it got pretty late and I was shot
You were listening so close
I was not
Hey so long you take so long
Hey so long you take so long

Hey so long you take so long
Hey so long, hey so long
When I was younger and we were all there
You were feeling all right blowing kisses in the air
And I went outside and made a move upstairs
Where you put me in the mood for love
I mean you were wearing your welcome out
I mean you weren't even thinking about how the rest of us felt
And I had a hard time to recall all those things that you still had
And I had not
Hey so long you take so long
Hey so long you take so long
Hey so long you take so long
Hey so long, hey so long
