

SO WHAT?

While She Sleeps

I'll be waiting for the moment
When you're out of your comfort zone
Are you afraid of realising we're out of control?
Did you know you'll never know?
Did you know that you'll never know?

So what if I die young, so what if I live forever?
If all we love will leave us in the end, let's die together

It's a false sense of security that will outlive us all
Another step in the wrong direction and we'll cut to the core
I wouldn't have to stab you in the back
If you'd just turn and face me
(Will you just turn and face me?)

I'll be waiting for the moment
When you're out of your comfort zone
Are you afraid of realising we're out of control?
Did you know you'll never know?
Did you know that you'll never know?

It's a false sense of authority that will tear us apart
Another step in the wrong direction and we'll cut to the core

If we don't let go
Of our saviours
If we don't let go
Of our saviours

Because the truth owes us nothing
The guilt we feel is showing
Look away, don't look away, don't look away

I wouldn't have to stab you in the back
If you'd just turn and face me
(Will you just turn and face me?)

We're all bastards to our demons and sinners to our angels
But neither know who we are
Would you really want the truth if you had the chance?
Don't answer, it's too soon
We've been through worse but we'll play dead
While you keep us in the dark
(You only wrote this for the money, didn't you?)

They keep us in the dark

I'll be waiting for the moment
When you're out of your comfort zone
Are you afraid of realising we're out of control?
Did you know you'll never know?
Did you know that you'll never know?

I'll be waiting for the moment
When you're out of your comfort zone
Are you afraid of realising we're out of control?
Did you know you'll never know?

Did you know that you'll never know?

(I'll be waiting)

Did you know, did you know, did you know you'll never know?

(I'll be waiting)

Did you know, did you know, did you know you'll never know?

(I'll be waiting)

Did you know, did you know, did you know you'll never know?

(I'll be waiting)

Did you know, did you know, did you know you'll never know?

So what if I die young, so what if I live forever?

If all we love will leave us in the end, let's die together
