

Scream at my reflection, what the hell is wrong with me?
Start the resurrection, misery loves company
Follow my directions, everybody follow me
I'll teach you a lesson, just keep following my lead

Coming round the corner, see you in the distance
Walking towards you slowly, moving with persistence
I don't fucking care, any and all resistance
Whatever it takes, I have to insist, yeah

Now you're backed into a corner with your back against the wall
Till there's no one you can turn to
Till there's nowhere left to crawl
Till there's no one you can turn to
Till there's nowhere left to crawl

Gasping for air, on your last breath
I will be there until your last breath

I will be there until your last breath
I will be there until
Till there's nowhere left to crawl

Scream at my reflection, what the hell is wrong with me?
Start the resurrection, misery loves company
Follow my directions, everybody follow me
I'll teach you a lesson, just keep following my lead

Coming round the corner, see you in the distance
Walking towards you slowly, moving with persistence
I don't fucking care, any and all resistance
Whatever it takes, I have to insist, yeah

Now you're backed into a corner with your back against the wall
Till there's no one you can turn to
Till there's nowhere left to crawl
Till there's no one you can turn to
Till there's nowhere left to crawl

Gasping for air, on your last breath
I will be there until your last breath
