

Breakdown Days

White Lies

There's something calling out my name
But I don't wanna think about it
My mind is falling, falling down a drain
But I don't wanna talk about it

On these breakdown days, I dream of something more
On these breakdown days, no choices, no feelings
On these breakdown days, my heart can be ignored
On these breakdown days, on these breakdown days

So it's here that I've lost it, lost my way again
What can I do about it?
My fears are constant, they're clouding up my brain
I don't know how to feel about it

On these breakdown days, I dream of something more
On these breakdown days, no choices, no feelings
On these breakdown days, (on these breakdown days) my heart can be ignored
On these breakdown days, on these breakdown days

When I'm dreaming I'm a child
And I'm lost in the ocean
I've been taken by the tide
But I can't feel any motion
When I'm dreaming I'm a child
And I'm lost in the ocean
I've been taken by the tide
But I can't feel any motion

(On these breakdown days)
On these breakdown days, on these breakdown days

On these breakdown days, I dream of something more
On these breakdown days, no choices, no feelings
On these breakdown days, my heart can be ignored
On these breakdown days, on these breakdown days

(Breakdown days, I dream of something more)
On these breakdown days, on these breakdown days
(Breakdown days, I dream of something more)
On these breakdown days, on these breakdown days
(Breakdown days, breakdown days)
On these breakdown days...
