

Black Friday

White Zombie

I say when the world cracks open

And you're my last go

And the blood in your eye

Falls to the floor

And there's nowhere left for you to hide

Your endless parties then kick the die

View is from hell in a human zoo

Our lives in the streets are waiting for you is written across the bay

And the shadows merge into a violet face

And I ran to my window - What did I see?

I said to the man...

I said, are you really

Could you really be

Mister Joe Jesus

Aw, and all the children scream in pain

And the bloody in the devil's reign

And the burning bodies are piled high

Filled up flashes in the sky

And clouds of the smoke travel to the south

Solid scream in victim's mouth

And I ask you to your face

Are you really there

Why

I said why

Why is the sky turning black

Aw, and I ask am I

Coming back

The electrical fading light in the city's And there's no one left to let me know

How it all goes away

And it all came down when it fell

And it all came down when it fell

And the sky's gone wild

The sky got black

It all turns black on Fri-
