

BLUE

Whitney

Blue
Every summer in the morning light
To-
-morrow you don't need to say goodbye

The sun's hovering over concrete
Lately you're the only reason my heart beats
All I want is to be your only

Blue
Every summer in the morning light
To-
-morrow you don't need to say goodbye

A vision between good and bad dreams
Paranoia's holding me, it's a strange thing
All I want is to be your only

Blue
Every summer in the morning light
To-
-morrow you don't need to say goodbye
