

Exegesis

WHY?

If I really meant it
I'd embrace a dead pet
Or enter into a bet
That I could be hung high
From a telephone wire
With no poor boy's pile
Of books under foot
No stack of yoga mats
Or foam-cored cushion pads
To lessen the pressure of the phone cord
Choking my neck