

Through the pines there's a road
I was never meant to find you
But I offered my hand
And now I want forever
Both to have and to hold
The mystery inside you
Do I dare say her name
Do I name the one I'm tied to

When every word is a code
And daily life is a dream
What will a shadow expose
I'll let it wash over me

See the place beyond the known map
I was hazy in the high standing hills
Love imagined with no limitations
I see you and I see time stand still

There's a note in my phone
With syncs and times and places
In the margins of time
Keep hold of you forever
From the road, hear a call
Both faint and fascinating
I was passing through Falls
It was for the call I waited

To go beyond whatever senses I command
No separation of the known and undefined
To live a life inside a love that no one knows
To embrace with total heart my own desires

And forget the body boxed in
Moon reflecting on the pasture and plain
In the coldest kind of celebration
See the blessing in her eyes, see the rain

I'm by the portal with my hands out
Tonight I'll let desire beckon me it's way
I'll let the shadow sauna wash in
Now that you're here, no other option

See the place beyond the known map
I was hazy in the high standing hills
Love imagined with no limitations
I see you and I see time stand still

I see you and I see time stand still
I see you and I see time stand still
