

Thick As Thieves

Widowspeak

Once we'd been as thick as thieves
Once we kept good company
Carpet bags and paper news
Buy our time for the afternoon

You too will forget what it meant to
You too will forget what it meant to you

Shunned the forest for the trees
Packed our trunks and gave our leave
Made the bed and built our nest
Now we lay our heart to rest

You too will forget what it meant to
You too will forget what it meant to you

Once wed been as thick as thieves
Once we'd been as thick as thieves
