

The Purpose

Wig Wam

She took a ride one summers day
Top down, life was great
Hair flying to the sound of her favorite tune Waiting somewhere down the coast
The one man that she loved the most
She just couldn't get there too soon

The one shed cross the sky for Her reason to get by
The one she'd give her life to
That made her feel alive
The one she belonged to
That she can't live without
Her love, her companion sticking out from the crowd

What's the purpose of life
If you ain't got someone to share it with

Walked home one December night
Had too much to drink, they had a fight
A jealous moment getting out of control
Poisoned words to harm and hurt
Blame games digging up some dirt
Five years pass and two lonely souls search for Someone to cross the sky for

A reason to get by Someone to give their life to
To finally feel alive
Someone to belong to
That they can't live without
A love, a companion sticking out from the crowd

What's the purpose of life
If you ain't got someone to share it with

I need someone to love, need someone to love, someone to share life with
I need someone to love, need someone to love, someone to share
life with
I need someone to love, need someone to love, someone to share
life with
life with

life with
