Wild Child

So you wanna stick around
Say you wanna wait and hold me darling
Think I'm loving what I found
Thinking that I might just let you in

All the walls are crumbling down
I think my eyes are finally open
Not ready to hit the ground
We'll be wasting time, already broken

If I take it back
If I change my mind
I'll learn from what I lose
I can only take what's mine

So you wanna stick around
If I let you go, could I start over
I'm not scared to be alone
Baby I'm afraid I'll get much colder

Sometimes it's more than I can take
I try to hold on 'cause I always run away
Just wanna see you at the end of every day
'Cause if I lose I learn to love you anyway

If I take it back
If I change my mind
I'll learn from what I lose
I can only take what's mine

So you wanna stick around
(If I take it back)
Say you wanna wait and hold me darling
Think I'm loving what I found
(I'll learn from what I lose)
Thinking that I might just let you in

So you wanna stick around
(If I take it back)
Say you wanna stay and hold me, darling
Think I'm loving what I found
(I'll learn from what I lose)
Thinking that I might just let you in
