

Bottom Line

Wild Child

I was waiting for you every night
Like damn if I don't do this right
How's he gonna see the light
Just look at what I do for you

I put myself back in second place
Cause I always seem to love that way
Like how should I expect to stay
If you don't love the way that I do

Baby if you wouldn't mind
I could share the bottom line
I could give you all that's mine
Just because you have
Got that way about you

I'll send you right back home
I'll send you right back home
Hey baby I'll send you right back home
I said I needed you I'd rather be alone

I told myself that I was doing fine
Like you can take it I don't mind
I couldn't see the bottom line
That I deserve the world like you do

So you can keep the inside jokes
I threw away your bag of coke
Now I'll keep up my own damn hopes
Of letting go of what I give you

Baby if you wouldn't mind
I could share the bottom line
I could give you all that's mine
Just because you have
Got that way about you

I'll send you right back home
I'll send you right back home
Hey baby I'll send you right back home
I said I needed you I'd rather be alone

But I won't make that same mistake
Can't keep up with love that way
By giving you my everyday cause that's just what I do

Baby I hope that you don't mind
I can share the bottom line
I can give you all that's mine
Just because you have got that way about you

I'll send you right back home
I'll send you right back home
Hey baby I'll send you right back home
I said I needed you I'd rather be alone
I said I needed you I'd rather be alone
