

Here Now

Wild Child

So I'll admit I lost my head
Can't recall the things I said
Thinking now all I can do instead
Is here now

Spend my time alone outside
Lift my arms and close my eyes
Feel the ground below the sun in the sky
Here now

Play these strings and sing along
Write your name into a song
Heal these broken bones with notes tuned on
Here now

Light from before that
Shows there's no going back
These thoughts and photographs
To past and present lies

Count the ripples by the dock
Settle minds without a watch
Getting lost inside the things we forgot
Here now

See the rope swing from the trees
Tired backs and dirty knees
Spend our days alone as long as we please
Here now

Lights from before that
Shows there's no going back
These thoughts and photographs
To past and present lies

Ahhh [x3]

See the sun begin to fall
Heavy lids and pillows call
No, tomorrow won't be different at all
Here now
