

The bright wide of stare of every moment with you I'd tear the big light down and cower in darkness with you
Four years now still feel somehow I wanna stop you just to say it
You're the only true thing that I know and I hope that I find t he words to say it

Every moment alone I was waiting for you
All those pains in my heart were just flickers at the start of you
Why won't you look in my eyes?
If we could just shut up and realize...
If you would just look in my eyes...
We'd burn in the dark tonight

I want you to know that there's so much more I see in you Than you'd ever know, all those small and beautiful things that are just pieces of you I wanna know if you are speaking all of the things you're think ing away
Do you feel the same way?

Every moment alone I was waiting for you
All those pains in my heart were just flickers at the start of
you
Why won't you look in my eyes?
If we could just shut up and realize...
If you would just look in my eyes
We'd burn in the dark tonight

Every moment alone I was waiting for you
All those pains in my heart were just flickers at the start of
you
I wanna know if you are speaking all of those things you're thi nking away
Do you feel the same way?

I wanna hold back every moment with you I wanna reach inside and tear out all the lies for you
Why won't you look in my eyes?
If we could just shut up and realize
If you would just look in my eyes...
We'd burn in the dark tonight
