

I Fall Over

Wild Cub

When I met you in a dark, dark place I felt a
Lot of love, a lot of love in my Heart, beating, it's on your face that you were
Not the one, the only one

Why now, why now, why now?
I try to reach you from a long-lost place
Why now, why now, why now?
I try to reach you from a far-off place, oh

We are all the same, we don't know
What is happiness, what is love
We are all just stupid lovers
We just tear up the happiness and throw away the love
We know
I fall over
I fall over
I fall over
And nothing ever shows
I fall over
I fall over
I fall over
And nothing ever shows

I'm flying by, you scorch your face with all the Tired lies, won't you wait a while, you're bleeding
Knees down, you said it's often the case, but oh you
Never wanna pick up your eyes and see it

Why now, why now, why now?
You need to listen to the quieter things in you
Why now, why now, why now?
You're never gonna hear the true things speaking to you

We are all the same, we don't know
What is happiness, what is love
We are all just stupid lovers
We tear up the happiness and throw away the love
We know
I fall over
I fall over
I fall over
And nothing ever shows
I fall over
I fall over
I fall over

We are all just blind to each other
We don't see the ones who get the most
We all just speak past one another
Till we lose our lungs and we can't get up to see

We are all the same, we don't know
What is happiness, what is love
We are all just stupid lovers
We tear up the happiness and throw away the love
We know

I fall over
I fall over
I fall over
And nothing ever shows
I fall over
I fall over
I fall over
And nothing ever shows
And nothing ever shows