

Wait

Wild Cub

Your innocent fire
Oh that strange desire
Your pale shade in my heart
I wish that I had known
Or somehow I had shown
How beautiful you are

I'll drive as far as I can go
I'll wait for you there
Drive as far as you can go
I'll wait for you there

And In those empty days
When I was far away
I felt you so damn close
And just behind my eyes
I tried to fight those lies
I told myself now but I can't forget you

Drive as far as you can go
I'll wait for you there
I'll drive as far as I can go
I'll wait for you there

Reaching back to you now
I can't drown it out
The reasons drift away
We both didn't know the reasons
I held you so far away
And I know now that
You'll never know
How I saw you in that place
I didn't know what I'd done
It was selfish and dumb
I know that you'll never come...
But I'll drive as far as I can go
And I'll wait for you there

Drive as far as you can go
And I'll wait for you there
Wait, wait, wait for me to say "I'm sorry"
Wait, wait, wait, oh I'll never say... "stay"
