

Disappear Always

Wild Nothing

Pull the blinds
All the black dreams i've had
Well they don't mean much now

When i rise at noon
I'm missing someone i don't know
And i don't want to be alone

And this house is now a grave
I've been sleeping here for days
I'm too hidden to awake
So i disappear always

Call someone up
Just having a dream
We can talk about anything, i don't care

Getting out of the house
For an hour or two
But it's missing something i can't explain

And this house is now a grave
I've been sleeping here for days
I'm too hidden to awake
So i disappear always
